WASHINGTON, Peb. 18.—Acting Consul General Half, at Havasa, reports to the State Department the street of one of the assassins of the American citizens in a written dispatch by mall to the department. Mr. Hall says he is resolved to urge full satisfaction, by virtue of our treaty stipaulations, by virtue of our treaty stipaulations, with Spain, for every outrage committed on the life and property of every American. Under these treaties any American charged with an offense is entitled to a trial by due process of law, before properly constituted courts, and the Government has THE HAVANA OUTRAGES

FARRAGUT ON THE NAVAL CHANGE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Admiral Farragut, in a letter to the Sceretary of the Navy, gen-cially approves of the bill for a reorganiza-tion of the may. He, however, believes that there should be a provision for a board of sur-veyors rather than of admiralty, believing it would be for the general good of the aervice. He timhas there should be ten medical directions with the rank of couptin, and twenty en-tonism the rank of couptin, and the twenty en-ded to the state of coupting the state of the color of commodore. He says that so officer below the grade of commodore should fill the office of Chief of Barrent of the Navy D partiment, and that executive officers should have pre-cedence over all officers attached to veasels at yards, stations, or establishments, while in discharge of their duty. With these exceptions the bill meets his cordial approval. He is glad that all the board and the Secretary of the Navy are as ready as himself to accord

Mayhap, children will be born by electricity or by steam; or some other abominable, new-tangled invention to cut off the simplicity of anture, who knows? The poetry of lite, "and that sort of thing," hap played out, and those that be not saturical or comic, have a wondrous thritty and prudent turn in matters of the heart, whereof the saint of the fourteenth of the kalend of February has no lof nor parcel, and is out of place. There used to be a droll notion that the head quarters of cupid were located about the heart, in order, as Charles Lamb explained, to save embarrassment to delicate minded persons incident to such possible. quarters of cupid were located about the heart, in order, as Charles Lamb explained, to save embarrassment to delicate minded persons incident to such possible questions as "Amanda, have you a sudoff to the other night in County Kerry, Ireland, a man was shot at through the window, and missed, and that nobody was arrested—not even the man who was shot at. A wonderful thing is the Atlantic minded persons incident to such possible questions as "Amanda, have you a matriff to bestow?" Or "desreat, will you accept of my licer and my fortune?" This odd notion is exploded. The true valentine now is an official envelope containing a sworn is an official envelope containing a sworn statement from the revenue assessor, illustratement from the revenue assessor when the first possible of the first p Ophelia in good society this morning; unless, perchance, there is such a thing—not a gushing thing, like the younger Miss Peckshiff—such a thing as an old-dashloned girl with a taste for sentiment and a fancy for legends, stowed away somewhere in an old house in the country with a lot of queer old books and pictures—to whom the weary Bishop may commit himself, to night, like the good Abbot in the golden prime, who reside here the properties of the properties prime, who rested beneath the roof of the gentle lady of Alcantara, and blessed it! have watched the steady progress of the massive and magnificent work. We cannot doubt that the gratification of our citizens at the successful consummation will meet with a ready and cordial sympathy in the hearts of all true men in pathy in the hearts of all true men in the function of the work and in the West and in the South, and in the North and in the East. On behalf of Louisylle and the whole of Kentucky, we congratulate the whole of Kentucky, we congratulate the most inveterate levellers, and detest all who are above them. Hence the readiness suddenly and so singularly anatched from suddenly and so singularly anatched from suddenly and so singularly anatched from and in the South, and in the North and in the East. On behalf of Louisyille and the whole of Kentucky, we congratulate the President and Board of Directors, as well as the distinguished engineer and artist and their passistants, whose genius has achieved this final success. It is fitting that Louisyille make a holiday of Thursday never can obtain them. If they were to overthrow the government to-day it would hat Louisville make a holiday of Thursday next. Let us celebrate the occasion.

Let us give unnistakable assurance to the carnest, enterprising workingmen of large carnest, enterprising workingmen of large heads and larger hearts, who have thrown the new one that had been intended by telegraph that there was a man this passway across our beautiful river, that we appreciate their work and their work and their that we appreciate their work and their that we appreciate their work and their that we appreciate their work and their that there were reasons for suspecting the new one that had been intended by telegraph that there was a man in Newark, New Jersey, who answered to the name which the President had sent to the Senate for the Supreme bench, and that there were reasons for suspecting worth. How this shall be most appropriately done is not our business to anticipate. We have entire confidence that conical if the crown was elevated a few For a long time no answer came. But more inches. Beneath it long and matted everybody felt that it was merely the wind-Two things are necessary to the prosperity of a city, viz: enterprise and capital. The history of Louisville does not prove that we have been overburdened with the former, as may be demonstrated by referring to the fact that we have lived at the most value of the control of t terring to the fact that we have lived at the most valuable water-power in the United States since the foundation of the city and allowed it to remain just as nature formed it, having only at this late day had a survey and plat made of the same, preterring to the fact that we have lived at wearer are in proportion to the extent of cinnati Enquirer. Gen. Grant is the owncity and allowed it to remain just as manual formed it, having only at this late day had a survey and plat made of the same, preparatory to its development, and for this we are indebted, we believe, to the foresight and judgment of Gen. Weitzel and his United States Engineers. But it is not likely, we trust, that our City Council will likely, we trust, that our City Council will likely matter to rest until steps are the Senate should refuse to confirm the laters as regime:

Plying at High Game.

Under this head the Pittsburg Gazette, of the 11th, says:

Nine hundred policemen in Philade'phia have such beau and the full amount of their Jenuary lay, 277 5%, and the money, a sum of over $50.000, has been sent to Harriboury, to be used in puschasing a veto of the police bill from Gev. Geary! Bow little the upright and honored Executive of this Commonwealth is understood and appreciated by the reacily reword the co-siltion! They will now discover that John W. treaty is suther to be longing as of the law. After declaring that two Philadelphia logurnals conceurred in their reports of the journals concurred in their reports of the manner in which the corruption fund had been raised; that the policemen had to submit to the levy or be discharged; and that very few, therefore, refused to pay, the Gazette continues:

the Gazette continues:

This abmettal transaction fairly illustrates the isotic and the mentiof the contilion, which is every day heapine fresh shames upon the reputation of Pennsylvania. Not content with the purchase of a majority in a Logislature which proves itself more corrupt than any of its predecessors, the thieves are now grasping, with an unblushing effectivity, at the Executive office, purposes. It is fortunate that we have in Goy, Geary a man who will spare their brites, and punish their cuitiy audactiy.

"O, my prophetic soul! my uncle!"
Immediately under the above article, so redolent of the praises of Governor Geary, the Gazette prints the following double.

The Cable.

Day by day the Attaptic cable asserts itself as the most useful public hard-tution of the age. We could get along very well without railroads and steamboats, and the absence of the inland teleboats, and the ansence or the liming tele-graph would not wholly deprive us of ease and comfort; but if the Atlantic cable were suddenly to play out, we should feel that chace had come again, and would be glad Alas, what did—what does the modern ribbon bind? What as we are, we know not that; and get hitle information even from the Delphic oracle of the period, the classic Grecian Bend, that goes curtaeying by us as if it would tell us all it knows, and tells us nothing! Love-making is clearly a matter-of-inet—a material schence—a thing to be gone at systematically and practically, to which blossoms and syllabub bear no positive relation. One great advantage in marrying a farmer is, that you have him at home with you at evenings, provided you make you—greated to him. Laura, even if she was married, attli thought while to fash-coughly arrange her hair, wear the bright brow, the dainty collar, the little et ceteras that really add so mught to a sommis attractions. Lance had too much respect for Laura and himself to sit down for the evening in his old frock, tumbled hair, oversils tacked into coarse boots savoring strongly of the barnyard. He brushed his hair, doned an old coat and slippers, and so, with a little trouble, gained vasily in comfort and his wife affections.
